Sabbath Acading.

THE REAPER AND THE FLOWERS. THERE is a reaper whose name is Death, And with his sickle keen, He reaps the bearded grain at a breath,

And the flowers that grow between. "Shall I have now the that is fair?" saith he; "Have n ught but the bearded grain?" Though the breath of the flower is sweet to me

He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes, He kissed their dropping leaves; It was for the Lord of Paradise He bound them in his sheaves.

I will give them all back again."

"My Lord has need of those flowrets gay," The reaper said and smiled; " Dear tokens of the earth are they,

Where he were once a child. "They all shall bloom in fields of light, Transplanted by my care, And saints, upon their garments white,

These sacred blossoms wear." And the mother gave, in tears and pain, The flowers she most did love; She knew she should find them all again,

The flowers she most did love. O, not in eruelty, not in wrath, The reaper came that day; 'Twas an angel visited the green earth, And took the flowers away.

"I MUST THINK OF GOD."

A noted infidel of Germany, who passed his life in revelry, wine and excess, upon coming to the dark river of death, raised his eyes desparingly to heaven, exclaiming, "I must, then, think of God also!" his whole life had been passed with not a serious, earnest thought of his Heavenly Father. Worldly gaiety had absorbed his attention, and occupied his time. He had supposed it was easy always to forget and neglect God. But when death came, a new view of life, of his own immortal life, broke upon him. Now he must think of God. There was no escaping from it. No worldly company, no cup of indulgence, no scene of mirth could hide him from its presence. And what a thought to a dying worldling! breaking in with its iron necessity, in all its awful terrors, upon a soul which has ever been a stranger to it! How must it take possession of the whole being causing the deepest agony of spirit! Worldly man! careless man! man of business or pleasure! remember, you must think of God! There is no avoiding it. The only choice permitted to you is, when will you think of him? Will you think of him now, while the Saviour offers mercy, while he invites you to immortal plessedness and glory, and while health and strength remain? or will you wait till the last hour of death, when hope, though it lingers still, yet lingers with a dying radiance, and is almost hopeless? or till eternity has sealed your doom? When, O worldly man, will you think of God? You must think of him. It is part of your life to think of him, for, as his creature, he has surrounded you with himself and made himself indispensable to your highest life. The best time be assured, the very best time, is this very moment, as your eye glances on these words. Think of him upon whose head had heaten almost eighty winters, rise in a large congregation to request the people of God to pray for him. Never shall I forget the scene. There he s'ood, covered with the locks which time had whitened, leaning upon the top of his staff. He felt that he was n sinner. His locks had whitened in the service of Satan. With a trembling voice and quivering lip he said, "I wish to go to Jesus, but I fear it is too late." A thrill ran through the assembly. Too late! An ag d sinner tottering on the brink of eternity, with a wo:11 of glory to be lost or won!

Aged friend, is it too late for you? Has the heavenly messenger been grieved for the List time, and left you like the shattered oak of the plain, to ripen in the beams of the sun for the consuming flames? O! turn your t-embling footsteps to Calvary, peradventure there is mercy yet in store for thee. Hasten to that fountain opened for sin and uncleanness. Linger not for a more convenient season. Fall into the hands of mercy .-Then shalt thou lean upon the top of thy staff and worship-then shalt thou go down | desired. into the dark valley and shadow of death, leaning upon the arms of Jesus; then shalt thou be gathered into the great company of patriarchs, apostles, and saints, where immortal youth shall bloom forever upon thy temples, and where death is never known.

THE BIBLE. How comes it that little volume, composed by humble men in a rude age, when art and science were in their childhood, has exerted more influence on the human mind and on Tanners, Neats Foot and Lamp Oil. the social system, than all the other books put together. Whence comes it that this book has achieved such marvellous changes in the opinion of mankind-has banished idol worship-has abolished infanticide -has put down polygamy and divorce-exalted the condition of woman-raised the standard of public morality-created for families that blessed thing, a christian home-and caused its other triumphs by causing benevolent institutions, open and expansive, to spring be pleased to exhibit to their old friends and us up as with the wand of enchantment? What sort of a book is this, that even the winds and waves of human passion obey it? What other engine of social improvement has operated so long, and yet lost none of its virtue? Since it appeared, many boasted plans of amelioration have been tried and failed. many codes of jurisprudence have arisen, and run their course and expired. Empire after empire has been launched on the tide of time, and gone down, leaving no trace on the waters. But this book is still going about doing good, leaving society with its holy principles-cheering the sorrowful with its consolation-strengthening the temptedencouraging the penitent-calming the troubled spirit—and smoothing the pillow of death! Can such a book be the offspring of human genius? Does not the vastness of its effects demonstrate the excellency of the power to be of God?

TIME AND ETERNITY .- We step the earth we look abroad over it, and it seems immense-so does the age. What ages have men lived, and know but a small portion. They circumnavigate it now with a speed under which its vast bulk shrinks. But let the astronomer lift up his glass, and he learns to believe in a mass of matter, compared with which this great globe itself becomes an imponderable grain of dust. And so to teach us walking along the road of life a year, a day, or an hour shall seem long. As BOOT, Shoe and Harness Makers. Also, for sale, all kinds of Upper and Sole Leather, Northwe grow older the time shortens; but when years which have rolled over the human always on hand-made of best materials. years which have rolled over then we are for sale by lace, vanish into a point; for then we are for sale by Dec 15 measuring Time against Eternity.

OUR MOTHER. - Children ought to love, honor and obey their parents. Let your mother, in particular, who in your tender years has the more immediate charge of you, be on earth the most sacred object of your affections. Let her be your friend and chief confidant. Conceal nothing from her, but make her acquainted with the company you keep, the books which you read and even the faults you commit. Happy is the son, and particularly the daughter, who is not afraid to communicate to their mother their most secret thoughts. Whilst they remain thus : rtless and undisguised, they are free from danger. Children, obey your parents in youth; but whenever you are no longer under their care, let not your reverence abate. If by the providence of God you should rise above them in the world, grow not ashamed of them. While they are bending under the infirmities of old age, still continue to treat them with respect as well as affection.

SANDS OF GOLD .- Contentment abides with truth. You will generally suffer for wishing to appear other than what you are -whether it be rich or greater, or more learned. The mask soon becomes an instrument of torture.

THE sweetest of all life is that which we live in the good of others.

MARRIAGE, HAPPINESS AND COMPETENCE.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the moridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of boalth, though by needleminant. and happy screenty of mind, arising from a condition of means, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her suffering at first—perhaps years, before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriagowere in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of one neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS, When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our Dies and the state of the state

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and control remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (with in the reach of all) which would space to be self YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the prosession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children. SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and porenty of thousands. In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is exertable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy budies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained is a little work entitled.

THEIR power over the above diseases is not excelled—if equalled—by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures aftest, in many cases after skillful physicians had called. failed. These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalida. Possessing great virtues in the ratification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they

The editor of the "Boston Ban," said in his paper of the 28nd of June Inst:

Dr. Hooptands Cellerrated Greman Britters for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepaia, Chronic of Nervous Debilly, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bluers have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by pers as with the most delicate stomachs with safety, under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use. 2Sud of June last:

More Evidence The Hon. C. D. HINELINE, Mayor of the City of Camden

The Hon, C. D. HINELINE, Mayor of the City of Camden N. J., says:

"Hoofland's German Fitters.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must ray we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repore, making sleep refreching.

"If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied these would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver, and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanute. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit."

Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that the re is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nestrums combined, a fact that can castily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet alproval when presented even in this form.

DR. ROGERS LIVERWORT AND TAR!! A SAFE and certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Consumption of the Lungs Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Hooping Cough, and all Pulmonary Affections. A Lovely Young Lady Cured of Consumption!

The following is from the pen of W. H. Levi son, Esq., the distinguished editor of the U. S. Military and Naval Argus, under date of New York, January 26, 1851. What could be more conclusive? January 26, 1851. What could be more conclusive?

"It is reddom we permit ourrelves to occupy a space in these columns to speak in praise of any article in the patent medicine way; but when we see the life of a fellow creature saved by the use of any medicine whatever, we consider it as our right, if not our duty, to give a simple statement of facts, that others may, in like manner, he benefitted. The case which has induced us to pen this article was that of a young lady of our acquaintance, who by frequent exposure to the hight air, contracted a Cold which settled on the Lungs before its ravages could be stayed. (This occurred two years ago this winter.) Varous remedies were used, but with very little effect or benefit.—The Cough grew worse, with copious Varous remedies were used, but with very little effect or benefit.—The Cough grew worse, with copious expectoration, and the sunken eye, and pale, hollow cheek, told plainly that pulmonary disease was doing its worst on her delicate frame. The family physician was consulted, and although he would not admit to the young lady that she really had the Consumption, yet he would give no encouragement as to a cure. At this crisis her mother was persunded to make use of a bottle of Dr. Rogers' Compound Symp of Liverwort and Tar, and we are happy to state she was perfectly cured in less than three months by this medicine alone, after even hope was destroyed. It is useless to comment on such a case as this, for the simple truth will reach where polished fiction never can. If any dorbt the authenticity of this statement, let them call at this Office,—U. S. Military and Naval Argus.
